Rob Baumgartner joined the MJ team in 1996 as a risk management consultant within our Risk Management + Commercial Insurance department. Over the years, he ascended to become a principal of the firm in 2008. Rob's expertise lies in the construction, real estate development, and surety segments of our business.

Before venturing into the insurance industry, Rob kickstarted his career as an owner/operator of a family construction company. His background and extensive knowledge in these fields have been the driving force behind his dedication to serving the unique needs of the construction, surety, and real estate industries.

Together with his team, Rob collaborates to design, manage, and implement specialized client risk management programs. Leveraging his expert understanding of the challenges faced by construction companies, Rob builds strong partnerships with his clients, offering valuable insights into effectively managing and reducing their total cost of risk.

Outside of MJ, Rob is passionate about his involvement with the Boys and Girls Club and spending time with his four children - cheering them on in their various sports and activities. If Rob has spare time, he spends it fishing or snow skiing.
