Brian Gratigny joined the MJ team in 2014 as director of health risk management and has since been promoted to senior vice president of product, APERTURE® where he oversees the Analytics practice in our Enterprise Data department. In his role, Brian leads a team of expert analysts responsible for delivering in-depth analysis and data-driven insights that empower MJ clients to make informed decisions. As a vital member of MJ's Senior Leadership Team, Brian provides a critical and unique perspective to influence enterprise-wide data strategies.

Prior to joining MJ, Brian worked as director of business analytics for UnitedHealthcare. With nearly two decades of industry experience, Brian and his team work to provide data-driven insights and recommendations to clients while addressing key business goals and initiatives. The need for data and business analytics is continually growing, which pushes Brian and his team to continue to innovate MJ's proprietary analytics platform, APERTURE. Brian's strategic marketing, research and analytical knowledge have made him an invaluable member in our organization.

Outside of MJ, Brian is passionate about his family, traveling, biking, discovering new music, golf, basketball, and watching his two children participate in various sports.
