In 2018, Mike Janicki became a valued member of the MJ team, stepping into the director of risk services role within our Risk Management + Commercial Insurance department. Mike quickly ascended to Vice President of Risk Services. Armed with over two decades of insurance industry experience, Mike leads our risk services and claims management teams, exerting a pivotal influence in shaping and enhancing our risk services offerings. Leveraging his extensive risk management and safety expertise, Mike is dedicated to assisting clients in elevating their overall risk management practices and programs.

Prior to joining MJ, Mike worked as managing director for FCCI Insurance Group, where he was responsible for company-wide risk control operations and administering department budgets. Additionally, he had a hand in developing strategic industry partnerships and providing leadership and collaboration in defining risk control and service platforms for the organization.

Outside of work, Mike enjoys spending as much time as possible with his family. As someone passionate about outdoor activities, Mike is an avid skier and hopes to one day be able to golf in Ireland and Scotland.
