"Far and away the best prize that life offers is the chance to work hard at work worth doing." – Theodore Roosevelt

Sam Hyer joined MJ as an associate client executive in the Benefits Consulting department. Since then, Sam has quickly advanced to the client executive role, where he is integral in cultivating strong relationships with our clients and building dynamic strategies to support their goals. His keen expertise in developing and executing benefit plan programs, combined with his natural leadership abilities, empowers success for both his team and our clients.

Before MJ, Sam gained over a decade of experience in communications, management, and media relations. His diverse background spans various industries, affording him a deep understanding of business and the value of delivering top-notch client service. Sam brings a fresh perspective and innovative approach to every client engagement based on this wealth of knowledge.

Outside of the office, Sam embraces new experiences with enthusiasm. Whether discovering the latest culinary delights at a new restaurant in Indianapolis or embarking on a globe-trotting adventure, he cherishes the moments spent alongside his loved ones. As an avid golfer, you might spot him perfecting his swing out on the links!
