Ryan Miller joined the MJ team as an employee benefits consultant within our Benefits Consulting department. He functions as part of our Japanese-owned Business practice, which helps our Japanese clients understand how to manage risk in the United States as they deal with significant differences in culture, language, and laws. Ryan is responsible for consulting with clients and potential clients to understand their business needs and demonstrate advanced knowledge of the client's industry. He also leads the development and execution of client's benefit plan strategies.

Ryan previously worked at Anthem, Inc., where he served as a specialty sales executive. He possesses over ten years of experience in the employee benefits and business consulting space, providing him with expertise in plan design analysis, alternative funding strategies, captive insurance alternatives, fully insured to self-funding transitions, and manufacturing.

Outside of work, Ryan loves spending time with his wife and four kids, especially when it involves a trip to their favorite place—Disney World, where he is a former Cast Member. Outside of the office, you can find him playing and coaching sports with his kids, traveling, or training for his next marathon.
