Matthew Wilhelm joined the MJ team as an account manager in the Risk Management + Commercial Insurance department, with a focus on servicing small businesses. He plays a crucial role in ensuring our clients receive exceptional care and attention. Matthew's daily responsibilities include coordinating service activities, implementing effective marketing strategies, and managing the needs of our clients. Through his work, Matthew takes pride in delivering top-notch service and building strong relationships with our small business clientele.

Prior to his start at MJ, Matthew honed his skills and gained invaluable experience as a commercial account manager. Working closely with small to medium-sized clientele, he developed effective property and casualty strategies that ensured clients received optimal coverage. Matthew's unwavering dedication to providing an exceptional client experience is what truly sets him apart and makes him an invaluable asset to the MJ team.

Outside of MJ, Matthew constantly seeks new hobbies, whether it's working on home improvement projects, delving into the pages of his latest literary find, or refining his culinary skills in the kitchen. When he's ready to venture out, you'll likely find Matthew exploring new hiking trails or planning exciting travel excursions.
