The MJ Companies Welcomes New Director of Population Health and Wellness

INDIANAPOLIS (Feb. 19, 2024) – The MJ Companies, a leading financial services firm for nearly 60 years, is proud to announce the appointment of Breanna Evans to Director of Population Health and Wellness. In this role, Evans will spearhead the development and implementation of population health and wellness strategies for our clients nationwide, focusing on health outcomes and enhancing employee wellbeing.

Evans comes to MJ from a cloud-based employee wellbeing solution company, where she managed a book of business of national and global organizations and collaborated with client vendors to improve benefits utilization. Evans has a strong understanding of health clinic models and extensive experience developing strategic wellness programs based on client objectives and rooted in data.

As Population Health and Wellness Director, Evans will collaborate with clients to assess their unique needs and challenges, and tailor comprehensive data-driven strategies to address them effectively. She will lead MJ's talented and growing team of population health and wellness professionals who will leverage innovative tools and resources to design, implement, and measure the effectiveness of evidence-based programs that promote healthy behaviors, prevent illness, and improve overall population health.

“We are eager to welcome Breanna to the MJ Companies team; her experience and know-how will help MJ continue to drive innovation and provide value-added solutions for our clients,” said Andy Vctor, President of Benefits Consulting and CGO of The MJ Companies. “Her appointment will further support MJ’s continuing commitment to growth, innovation, and exceptional client service.”

Evans earned a Master of Public Health from Indiana University, as well as a Bachelor of Science in Health Services from the University of Southern Indiana.
