FAVORITE QUOTE

"Do what you love. Love what you do."

Spencer Millwood joined the MJ team as a risk management associate and was quickly promoted to a risk management consultant in the Risk Management + Commercial Insurance department. In this role, Spencer leads new business development by connecting prospective clients with tailored risk management solutions. He collaborates across MJ teams to gather insights that enable clients to make informed decisions aligned with regulatory requirements and long-term objectives.

Before joining the team, Spencer worked as a portfolio management intern at a real estate investment firm. Through this experience, Spencer worked to streamline existing processes by designing interactive unit maps, showing his commitment for data-driven decision making. This focus, combined with an interest in improving communication across teams makes Spencer an invaluable asset for both the MJ team and our clients.

Outside of the office, Spencer enjoys spending quality time on the water. He is a major boating advocate—who else do you know that says boat gasoline is their favorite scent? When not on the water, he enjoys honing his golfing and pickleball skills.
