Shiori Koh joined the MJ team in the role of business development for Benefits+ and risk management. Leveraging her experience working in commercial business and finance in Japan, Shiori works with our dedicated Japanese team in crafting innovative strategies that take our clients' risk management and employee benefits programs to new heights.

As a native of Japan, Shiori has extensive bilingual and bi-cultural expertise spanning Asia and North America. Deeply rooted in the Japanese business community, Shiori serves as a valuable resource for Japanese executives, providing critical insight and guidance on insurance policies and programs. She leads business development efforts for all business units while actively bringing together local leaders through networking events, roundtables, and industry forums.

Before joining MJ, Shiori made significant contributions in her role at a leading benefits consulting agency, where she was responsible for providing comprehensive group benefits for the Midwest regions of the company. She has a deep understanding of how businesses operate and a unique ability to uncover synergies across functions-connecting insights in new ways to drive smarter, more efficient outcomes. Her multifaceted expertise and commitment to alignment make her an invaluable asset to MJ and the clients we serve.

Outside of work, Shiori finds joy exploring and being outside. She frequently travels, snorkels, hikes, and enjoys going on runs. Indoors, Shiori enjoys cooking, baking, and sewing.
