EXPERTISE

Regulatory Compliance
Employee Benefits & Executive Compensation
Health & Welfare Employee Benefit Plans

Bryan Gross joined the MJ team as director of compliance regulation within our Benefits Consulting department and has since climbed the ranks to become vice president of legal + compliance. In his current capacity, Bryan provides legal and compliance leadership for our benefits clients, helping them navigate the complex regulatory and contractual considerations that shape their benefits strategies. Through his expertise and strategic guidance, Bryan plays a pivotal role in strengthening our benefits consulting capabilities and helping clients approach compliance with greater clarity and confidence.

Remarkable accomplishments punctuate Bryan's decade-long legal journey. Before joining MJ, he was an associate attorney in Krieg DeVault's Employee Benefits & Executive Compensation Practice Group. There, Bryan focused on Health & Welfare Employee Benefit Plans, offering legal counsel on complex matters such as benefit plan administration, employment contracts, severance agreements, and organizational policies.

In his free time, Bryan enjoys cheering on his favorite Formula 1 and IndyCar teams and drivers! He also loves traveling to different cities to see races live throughout the season.
